Copyright; 1893: By The Tribune Association July 17 .- During the residence Oneen at Windsor she has spent the morning every fine day at Frogmore. Her Majesty drives down from the castle through the home park at about 9 o'clock and breakfasts at Frogmore, usually in a tent on the After breakfast the Queen does her morning's work in another tent, all dispatches, letters and boxes ning down to her from the castle after they have been prepared for her by Sir Henry Ponsonby. During morning two mounted grooms are kept busy riding between Frogmore and the castle with messages and letters, and about half-past 1 the Queen drives back in time for luncheon.

The Duke and Duchess of York will reside for sev eral months in each year at Sandringham, and the Duke is making arrangements to take over the farm on the royal estate, on which he will establish herds of red polled cattle and Berkshire pigs, which are breeds not owned by the Prince of Wales.

THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT TO GO TO HUNGARY. The Duke of Connaught has accepted the invitain September for the autumn manocuvres, and will RUMORS ABOUT THE CZAREWITCH.

Scarcely a month passes without the papers anncing the betrothal of the Czarewitch to some princess or other. A few weeks ago it was Princess Alix of Hesse, and now it is Princess Victoria of This last report is utterly baseless. The canons of the Greek Church strictly prohibit the parriage of first cousins, and the heir of the Emperor of all the Russias could not possibly ignore these fact, however, the Czarewitch has now no desire to laws to which I have referred prevented his being betrothed to the daughter of the King of the Hellenes, and he made no secret of being at her feet.

POSSIPLE FUTURE PEERS.

Among those whom Mr. Gladstone will upon the next occasion delight to honor there are almost certain to be found Sir Arthur Hayter and Mr. MacEwen. The former will in due course become that rather rare commodity, a Gladstonian peer, an honor which it is no exaggeration to say he will owe as much to Lady no exaggeration to say he will own sacrifices Hayter's electioneering talents as to his own sacrifices on behalf of party. Mr. MacEwen, of Edinburgh
6-3; M. Phillips beat H. N. Reith, 4-6, 6-0, 6-4, 6-0 brewing fame, has done too much for Scotch Liberalism to be overlooked, though it is whispered that of has been the political sensation of the week.

DR. WALLACE'S CAREER.

Dr. Wallace's career has been a varied and brilliant one. For years he was pastor of the most fashionable in Edinburgh, that of Grey Friars. He then became Editor of "The Scotsman" for a space and ally came to London and was called to the English bar, where, oddly enough, one of his sons was professionally several years his senior. He has spoker cleverly before this sessiop, but his effort last week trail Park (quarter fifteen), beat George Fish, Chester eclipsed all his previous performances, and he may consider his political reputation made. The Unionists of him the honor to believe his epigrams against fred Taylor, New-York T. C. (quarter fifteen), by deconsider his political reputation made. The Unionists do him the honor to believe his epigrams against Mr. Gladstone the most damaging from a popular point of view of all the attacks yet made on the Home Rule bill. ELECTIONEERING OF THE RIVAL PARTIES.

Many instructive side lights on the political outlook are to be had from watching the pamphlets issued from the central offices of the rival organizations. There has been much activity of this kind lately, both at St. Stephen's Chambers and in Parliamentdeed it has been all along, that the rallying cry of the Liberals at the next election will be "Down with the Lords!" and not Home Rule in any shape or form. If proof of this were needed it is to be found in the flooding of the constituencies, m particularly the rural and more ignorant ones, with Fortunately, the Conservative central office has been equally active in disseminating the requisite attidute. Apart from this the most important notice sent out from Mr. Middleton's office is a warning to agents to the assessments of the Tax Commissioners on their country is August. This is intended, however, rather as a stimulus to increased efficiency than as a forecast missioners put the amount on which they levied his

PLACATION OF THE WELSH.

The inclusion of Mr. T. E. Fillis, once nicknamed the Welsh Parnell, in the Government and the clever management of Mr. Stuart Rendell have led to the collapse of the Young Wales party. Mr. Lloyd George, who not long since put forward a rebellious resolution against the Government in the matter of Welsh disestablishment, has been completely tamed, and I hear that Mr. D. A. Thomas is now the only Young Wales member who has pluck to stand out against the Premier.

DOWNFALL OF MR. DEASY.

The Parnellites and Nationalists look upon the political collapse of Mr. Densy as a Nemesla, and a most righteons judgment, for Mr. Deasy was under special obligations to Mr. Parnell, who sent him out as a political missionary collector to Australia and was much astonished at his defection. DEVELOPING IRISH INDUSTRIES.

Lord Petre's personalty has been proved a little over £50,000, a sum somewhat less than he was expected to have accumulated at the end of a bachelor's tenure of the Petre property of several years' duration. That Lord Petre died without a will was no accident. He prepared a draft of one some years ago, but never cared to execute it. He was not on terms of close Intimacy with several members of his family, but did not care to carry beyond the grave any differences there might be, and his intestacy has led to the dis-posal of his personalty thought most agreeable by all concerned, though not exactly one he would have ex-

MME. STERLING'S AFFLICTION. The deepest sympathy is expressed by an unusually public at large, with the accomplished vocalist, Mme. COMEDIE FRANCAISE'S VISIT UNPROFITABLE.

I regret to learn that the visit of the com pany of the Comedic Française to London has been in a pecuniary point of view particularly unsuccessful. My sorrow is not so much for the English and American speculators, Messrs. Harris, Abbey & Grau, for theatrical speculation is their business, and they must stand the racket of success or failure, and all talk about their efforts in the cause of art is moonshine. The component parts of the Francaise company are in many cases by no means up to th average to which we have been accustomed by the troupe. This opinion will be indersed by all who remember Messrs. Delaunay, Bressant, Febvre, Coque lin aine and many others, and it must be remembered that the public capable not merely of appreciating acting but of comprehending words is, even in these days of cultivation, very limited, and that there is still a very large number of persons who, like Thackeray's friend, Captain Crackenbury, don't understand French when it's spoken so devilish quick. The London playgoing public is infinitely more exacting than it was, and this is probably the reason why Augustin Daly's short season, reintroducing to us as it did the great talent of Miss Ada Rehan, has not caught on more effectively. Theatre frequenters look for ensemble of excellence in acting and scene, and reward it, as has been proved in the instances of "Diplomacy and "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray." The days of "Ma Femme et Quelques Poupees" are gone, probably never EDMUND YATES.

NOTES OF THE STAGE.

Mrs. De Wolf Hopper took her place in the cast of "Panjandrum," at the Broadway Theatre, last night, playing the part formerly played by Miss Delia Fox, who is to be absent for several weeks. It is a new and trying

All but one of the exhibitors of harvesting machiner at the World's Fair, have decided not to take part in the field trials this week, for which John Boyd Thacher has made arrangements at Wayne, III., on the stock farm of Mark Dunham. They say that Thacher's has award system has been discredited all over the world, and and that his medals would be of no value to them. while the expense of competing would be very great; that the trials are only to be in rye, cats and barley, while the great crop of the world is whent; that they brought their machines to the Fair for exhibition only, with the understanding that there would be no field trials; and that Thacher has only given them a week's notice, which is not time enough for all of them to get their machines ready and bring them to Chicago. Furthermore, they say that the place for the trials is not neutral ground, having been used for years by a Chicago house in this line as a testing farm.

The Department of Awards is now the bushest branch in the great Exposition and Mr. Thacher has increased his force from five to one hundred clerks, who occupy the entire third floor of Pavillon B, in Administration Building. Each of thirteen great de-partments of the Fair is represented in this office. Twenty-four German experts representing as many branches of industry in that Empire, and who were branches of industry in that Empire, and who were sent to the World's Fair through the efforts of Henry Villard, called upon Mr. Thacher this evening.

Chlef Buchanan, of the Agricultural Department, announced to day that the time for registering entries for the stock show which opens next month has passed. Up to date there are 3,200 entries. The stock comes from every part of the country. All the breeds of cattle are well represented, particularly the Jerseys and Herefords.

NEW-YORK'S DAIRY EXHIBIT.

THREE FIRST PRIZES AWARDED TO CHEESE MANUFACTURERS.

Albany, July 17.—Commissioner of Agriculture Schraub has just returned from Chleago, where he has been in consultation with the New-York State World's Fair Commissioners with reference to the dairy exhibit. He reports that in the exhibit for this m New-York exceeds all other states, not only in the character of its products but in the number of exhibits. F. A. Ayers, one of the expert cheese in structors of the State Department of Agriculture, secured the highest score of any exhibitor, the cheese made by him scoring almost 100 points, which is the standard for perfection. Mr. Ayers is a Jefferson County cheese manufacturer, and the cheese exhibited by him was made in his own factory. The commissional characteristics of the county received two structors of the State Department of Agriculture, se sioner also learned that Jefferson County received two other first prizes in the cheese exhibit.

Mr. Schraub is greatly interested in unking the September and October the se and butter exhibits a su-cess, and will in a few days have all the deputies of his department meet at Albany for the purpose of making a concerted effort to secure a large exhibit for

The commissioner states emphatically that no better dairy cheese is produced in the world than in this state, and that if a proper effort is made, and a large exhibit of the finest goods secured, it cannot fall to result in the highest prize being awarded to New-York, with the consequent benefit that will result to the farming interests of the State,

Governor Flower said to day he was much pleased to hear that New-York cheese manufacturers had secured three first series except.

FIREMEN WERE WARNED OF THE DANGER. ANOTHER STORY TOLD OF THE WORLD'S FAIR FIRE DISASTER

Chleago, July 17 .- One week has elapsed since the World's Fair fire, and still the mystery of the exact number of human lives lost remains unsolved. For three days practically no attempt was made to clear up the rains, and the work that has been done since that time has only had the effect of indicating the large amount of labor still ahead before the investigation is complete and the funeral pyre gives up its secrets. It will be well-nigh impossible to dist between any fragments of human beings that are unearthed and the quantities of meat and provisions that were stored in the building. John B. Skinner, president of the Hercules Iron Works, the company ming the cold storage building, lays the blame for the terrible loss of life upon Assistant Fire Marshal He insists that a blunder was made in the face of repeated warnings from employes in the build-The men, Mr. Skinner declares, would not listen to the admonitions of men who knew the structure

Fire Marshal Murphy was the most important than the fact that as soon as a stream of siding. Fire Marshal Murphy was the most important witness. He testified that as soon as a stream of water was turned on the fire smoke appeared and was almost immediately followed by an explosion. After the explosion flames appeared from all sides of the tower. After the flames burst out upon the men, they began to jump from the tower. Marshal Murphy then gave a list of the men who had jumped and told how he, with the ald of Hans Refeledt and Captain James Kenfedy, rescued Captain Fitzpatick. In reply to a question as to who ordered the men to go on the tower Marshal Murphy replied: "The men were on the tower when I went there. Captain Fitzpatick was in charge, and it is reasonable to suppose that he ordered them to the tower, but I do not know as to that." The explosion, he thought, was caused by gas lighted by the flames.

Governor Flower keeps his word the 7th Regiment will go to the World's Fair and take part in the celebration of New York Day, on September 4. Albany, July 17 (Special).-Governor Flower re urned from Watertown this afternoon, and will remain here over to-morrow. Regarding the talk of New-York week at the World's Fair, which begins on september 4, the anniversary of the discovery of the Hudson River, the Governor expressed his great de says that he cannot order out the troops for that pur-pose. If the 7th goes It must pay its own expenses, which would amount to about $700 a day at the least estentiation while in Chicago. Transportation, he thinks, can be provided without cost to the soldiers. but the National Guard Fund of the State cannot be used for this purpose, and the State World's Fair managers are unable to spare the necessary amount from their appropriation.

___ A CONGRESS OF EDUCATORS.

Chicago, July 17.—The Congress of Educators, one of the most notable of the many World's Fair gatherings, began to-day at the Lake Front Art Palace, and will last until next week. The attendance at the initial sessions was good. The Congress was formally opened with a general mass-meeting in the Hall of Washington, at which addresses of welcome were made by representatives of the local auxiliary and responded to by visitors. The delegates then separated to their respective conference halls, and the serious business of the week was in-making a concerted effort to secure a large exhibit for the purpose, and one that will be in every way commensurate with the importance of the dairy interest in this State. He helieves that with such an effort New-York will easily lead all competitors. Owing to the fact that this State did not take such an interest in the dairy exhibit at the Philadelphia Centennial as

HENRY F. SPAULDING. Henry F. Spaulding, a retired merchant of this city, died suddenly at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning at his summer home, at Riverdale-on-the-Hudson, Heart disease was the cause.

Mr. Spaulding was born in Brandon, Vermont, seventy-seven years ago. He began his successful career in the world by coming to New-York when a young man. From a place as clerk in a drygoods house advanced rapidly. His earnestness in his work and a peculiar business ability soon made his worth ognized. A few short years saw him at the head of the firm of Spaulding, Vall & Fuller, importers of woollens and dress goods, with a large store at Park and College Places. This was before the war. When that trouble came Mr. Spaulding drew out of With capital from safe investments, he founded, at the close of the war, the drygoods establishment of Spaulding, Hunt & Co., in Worth-st. This enterprise, like all of Mr. Spaulding's ventures, was successful, though after a few years he withdrew from firm and entered the commission business.

ing's ability as a financier and manager being thoroughly established, he founded with others the Central Trust Company. He was the first president, and for 1883, on account of advancing years, he retired from active business life, though until the day of his death he never gave up the touch with business affairs and which had been so great a part of his life. EDWARD B. CADLEY, Edward B. Cadley, clerk of the Kings County Board of Supervisors for about a third of a century died yesterday at No. 112 St. Felix-st., Brooklyn He was born in Brooklyn in 1852, and received a public school education. He was a gusfitter in early life, but gave up business in 1857 to become a clerk in a police court. He subsequently served three years as an assistant to the City Clerk, William G. Bishop. In 1859, while holding this office, he was elected Supervisor of the Fifth Ward, and served one May 6, 1861, he was elected clerk of the Board of Supervisors by one vote over his chief opponent. He was annually re-elected thereafter, ually without opposition. His familiarity with the rules and records of the board was such services were regarded as invaluable by both Republicans and Democrats. In politics he was a Democrat but he never obtruded his opinions. For many years he was clerk of the Beard of Estimate, and his expertness as an accountant was shown in figuring the tax rates for the different wards. His salary was gradually increased, until at the time of his deat he was receiving $5,000 a year.

Mr. Cadley's health had not been good for severa years, and his death was due to chronic kidney disease. He leaves six children. The funeral will take place to morrow afternoon, and the Board of supervisors will attend it in a body. The flags on the Courthouse were at half-mast in honor of Mr. Cadley yesterday.

THE PRESIDENT AFTER THE FISH.

STARTING ON A TWO-DAYS' CRUISE IN THE

Buzzard's Bay, Mass., July 17.-The steam yacht breida arrived off Monument Neck this morning, with Benedict on board. Mr. Benedict came ashore and paid his respects to Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland. Mr. Benedict and the President went on board the launch and were taken to the Oneida. The yacht left here at 10:45 o'clock, bound down the bay.

It is authoritatively stated here this evening that the party has not started for New-York, but has gone short cruise and fishing excursion, to be absent about two days. It is reported that a part of the time may be spent near Block Island.

The President appeared in the best of health and spirits and has no lameness whatever. Dr. Bryant will accompany the President back to Gray Gables. where he will probably remain through July. Mrs. Cleveland drove over here for the mail to-night.

Newport, R. I., July 17 (Special).—The yacht Oneida, with Fresident Cleveland on board, reached here this evening and before dark proceeded west. The stop here was made for mail, dispatches and supplies. The yacht remained outside, back of the Torpedo Station.

A WEDDING. Baltimore, July 17 (Special).-Miss Rebecca Will-tams, daughter of the late George Hawkins Will ars, was quietly married in St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church this morning to Dr. William T. Howard, the physician who brought her through an illness which prevented her marriage several years ago to Henry Herbert, of Mucktoss Abbey, Ireland. The day had been set for her marriage to the wealthy Irishman, but the engagement was broken off because of her ill health. Her illness was caused by a fall from a horse while following the hounds. a time her life was despaired of. The best medical talent was invoked, but without avail, until Dr. Heward declared he could cure her. She has fully recovered under his treatment. It had been whispered in social circles that the young doctor and his beautiful patient had become devotedly attached to each other, but the wedding to-day was a surprise; as it had been unannounced.

Whether it was fair to call boxing the "manly art" when it was practised by a kangaroo was a question that did not agitate the admirers of the art, manly or kangarooly or whatever it was, at Koster & Bial's last night.
"Big Frank," the toxing kangaroo, made his first appearance there, and amused the audience immensely, is not because he boxes well that he is so amusing suspected that he would not stand much chance if the lails, and the serious business of the week was inaugurated.

The World's Youth Congress, a gathering of young people between twelve and twenty-one, representing schools, academies and colleges throughout the countity, and various institutions of learning in England and on the Continent, opened in the Hall of Washington shortly after noon with an invocation by the light Rew. Bishop Fallows. Addresses of welcome this an abnormal growth of tail. This tail is the most use, full thing about him, for it is what he stands on when he does his real fighting with his hind feet. With this mir of feet he might do really usly work, and it is said that he sometimes does when he feels that way.

The rest of the programme offered at Koster & Bial's last night included Charles Haydn, mimte and humerist;

the English soubrette, Miss Lottie Collard; Wood and Shepard; the Borani Brothers, acrobate and contortion-ists; the Parisian dance duettists, Dufour and Mile. Hartley, in a new repertory; the presentation of the travesty on Offenbach's "La Eelle Helene," and Soleman and Morton's one-act nautical operetta, "The Admiral."

CHANGES AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

FITTING UP MRS. CLEVELAND'S BOUDOIR-THE RED ROOM TO BE REDECORATED.

Washington, July 17 .- The absence of the Pro and his family at Buzzard's Bay is being taken advantage of thoroughly to renovate the White House and to make some changes in the arrangement of the interior. President and Mrs. Cleveland's sleeping room will be in the future the chamber on the north side of the house, a favorite room with them before, and the room used by President Arthur in his day. Cleveland as her bondoir, and has again been arrang for the same purpose. These two rooms were the nursery during the last Administration, and were entirely dismantled after the sickness of little Mar-thena Harrison. Both are now being decorated according to Mrs. Cleveland's taste. The President's bed chamber is now a red room. Mrs. Cleveland's bo carpets, hangings and other accessories to match sident Harrison's old bedroom, known as the of Wales room, is to be set apart for the use of the President's little daughter Ruth and her nurse. other rooms on the south side of the mansion are
